UNICEF - Rights Respecting Schools Award

- Recognition of Commitment Level 1

As a school we are working towards the Unicef Rights Respecting School Award. We have recently updated our school vision and our school values. This was done in consultation with staff, governors, parents and most importantly the children.

UNICEF's RRSA initiative helps schools to use the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child to establish a Value's framework that underpins the curriculum and ethos of the school. Working on this framework has a positive effect on relationships, teaching approaches, attitudes and behaviour of everyone involved - adults and children! Other schools have reported that this work can:-

- Support and enhance children's moral development
- Improve behaviour and relationships - children understanding both their rights and also their responsibilities
- Develops positive attitudes towards diversity and reduces prejudice
- Helps children understand their responsibility as a global citizens
- Results in overall whole school improvement in learning
- Enhanced job satisfaction for teachers

We will keep you updated on our journey towards this goal.
